education in south korea is provided by both public and private schools. both types of schools receive funding from the government although the amount that...