The Camino de Santiago is a large network of ancient pilgrim routes stretching across Europe and coming together at the tomb of St. James. It is a pilgrimage which has its roots in the 9th century and was undertaken by Catholic pilgrims from all over the world. The French Way or the Camino Francés is the most famous of all the Camino routes to Santiago de Compostela. The Camino Primitivo or the original way is a part of the northern Caminos network that includes the Camino Primitivo, Camino del Norte, and the Camino Ingles. The Camino Francés begins in St. Jean Pied de Port and ends in Santiago de Compostela, a distance of nearly 1000 km. The Camino Portugués is another popular route that starts in Porto and ends in Santiago de Compostela. The Camino Inglés starts in Ferrol and connects with the French Way at Fisterra.
