Ho Chi Minh History - early life

Ho Chi Minh was born as Nguyễn Sinh Cung in 1890 in the village of Hoang Trà, near the name of the local temple near Long Sen, his mother's village. He fled Vietnam in 1895 at the age of 25. His father, Nguyễn Văn Cường, was a leader of the Cần Vương movement. He attended school in Vietnam before going to France in 1911 to study law. He returned to Vietnam in 1920 and founded the Indochinese Communist Party in 1930. He became the leader of the Việt Minh in 1941, and then the leader of North Vietnam after the end of World War II. He was the first president of Vietnam from 1945 to 1969.
