The most common symptoms are burning with urination and having to urinate frequently or an infection within the bladder.