The brief but dramatic stock market crash of May 6, 2010 was initially thought to have been caused by high frequency trading. The Dow Jones Industrial Average plunged. Asset allocation refers to the division of one's investment portfolio across the various asset classes at the highest level. This refers to a split. JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary sources.